Your "lounger" gets you to them he declared that he considered to say that the President's birthplace is the statement of General Mahone on the across the line-in Canada. You allow this malicious campaign slander to be repeated through you—that the President is a rascally impostor, falsely claiming to said he did not doubt. THERE IS A growing feeling in New York that Mr. Folger's slim chances might be helped if Mr. Conkling could be induced to declare against his election .- Washington Post. What evidence has our amiable contemporary of any such feeling in New Hill, Lamar, Brown, Morgan, and the rest Whitelaw Reid told General Garfield in that midnight dispatch that the New York "assembly was overwhelmingly Conkling," but changed front as soon as it was apparent "that the Administration own disgraceful confession. Dare he premeant business." And so we have as tend that President Garfield had a guilty high an authority as Mr. Reid for the knowledge of his conspiracy with the declaration that not the merits or demerits | Bourbons enemies who were thus reof Mr. Conkling figured so much in the lentlessly trying to destroy the Vir-New York politics of 1881 as did the ginia leader? If he says that he question of whether or not "the Adminis- was not concealing his Bourbon work tration meant business." Now if White- from his chief then he accuses law Reid was still assistant President, we should doubtless have "business" Mahone or of retaining in his again "meant" by the Administration. Cabinet a man who was engaged in It would then only be a matter for treason to the Administration of which the Administration to settle whether the he was a member. If he did so conceal sentiment should be "overwhelmingly his work then he was toward President Conkling" or the opposite. What a Garfield high estimate the Post and Tribune have of the virtue and intelligence of the people of New York,

We believe nothing would strike such terror to the Democracy, and their lacqueys of the New York Tribune and Times, as the announcement that Roscoe Conkling would speak at Cooper Institute or at the Academy of Music in New York city-

New York. Whatever excitement may now be created by the diseased egotism of individual Republicans who seem to think that if their will is crossed chaos is come again, the common enemy of Republicans of all factions will not fail by and by to attract the general attention to his own schemes. This may not be until he shall have taken the reins of power. "We take no note of time but from its loss," and it seems possible that angry Republicans will take no note of the political power in this country until it is lost to them for half a generation. If foolish editors and frantic sensational preachers and disappointed place-hunters would but reflect that they are advocating the return to power of the Bourbon reactionists they would come to their senses. The severe moralists who are raving because the State patronage of New York, and the venomous lies and feroclous abuse of the President, which were a large element in the opposition to the nomination of Judge Folger at Saratoga, were all unsuccessful, will feel ashamed when they get sober. They are now intoxicated with the poisonous political mophitic gases generated in the sewers of faction. Much of the execrable stuff now being palmed off on the public · in New York as political information is the frenzied outpouring of newspaper writers who have an idea that they are the supreme power. They have some power for harm, but the people are stronger than they, and when they have raved most arrogantly and confidently they have often found the people against them. Judge Folger is a pure and able statesm ... He was honestly nominated at Saratoge, as his slanderers well know. His enemies are busy defaming him and misrepresenting the convention. If the Republican party of New York could be disbanded by the beating of gongs or the throwing of stink-pots, they would not now be participating in this

> How New York is Ruled. Rev. John P. Newman in his sermen on Sunday in New York seid: "Partisan rule in our city has orrupted public justice so that political consider corrupted public justice so that political consider-ations have restrained the district attorney, the police justice, the police commissioner, the sheriff, and the prison warden. It has prostituted our public charities in commissioners and in sub-ordinates and in orders for out-door relief to carry in election, and this without regard to necessity This has fostered pauperism and vagrancy in our midst. It has sacrificed life and property. Flith, crime, disease, and death reign in our tenement ouses, where 100,000 families live in 24,000 houses where 9,000 deaths occur annually, where 10,000 criminals and paupers are yearly recruited, where 20,000 criminals are sheltered—and for all which criminals and paupersare yearly rectuied, where 20,000 criminals are sheltered—and for all which we are compelled to pay an annual tax of 513,000,000. It has degraded the private and public morals by the licensing of seventeen miles of salcous, from which the city receives $300,000 and then pays $5,000,000 to meet the results. It has thrown its cepts over gambling, policy shops, and resorts of foramy. It has obstructed religion by keeping alive the worst elements of society. These are a part of the abuses of partisan rule. The indictment is damning to the last degree. How can we redeem New York? Let the intelligence, the wealth, and the virtue of the city come to the front. Take advantage of the present confusion in party politics. Multiply the means and act on business principles and no grauder work can be done in this generation."

What Advertising Did. Major Samuel M. Whiteside, captain Sixth Cav-alry, who is in command of the recruiting station here, is well satisfied with the result of his adver tising in The National Republican for recruits even though he has to pay for it out of his own that after the inauguration he agreed on pocket. He stated Saturday to a member of the pocket. He stated Saturday to a member of the staff of this paper that his advertisement has attracted the attention of a very much better class of young men for enlistment in the Army than usually present themselves at a recruiting rendezvous. He states that he is in frequent receipt of letters from distant poins reached by the wide circulation of The Republican, and the percentage of applicants accepted is larger than he has ever known before. The class of applicants also ranks higher in education than is usually seen.
